A CLOSER LOOK

106th edition

RAYMOND JAMES

It's in the details ...

On behalf of the entire Asset Management Services (AMS) Due Diligence team, we appreciate your interest, confidence and trust in AMS. Because this booklet is client-approved, we would like to remind you and your clients of a few things:

- Past performance is not guaranteed in the future. Please review each RJCS manager's composite performance disclosure at the back of this book before investing.
- The stock market has produced a pre-fee, pre-tax annual rate of return of about 10.24% from January 1, 1926, through June 30, 2023, according to Ibbotson's Yearbook. Investors should not expect to return 10.24% every year; for instance, there have been 25 calendar years with a negative return over those same 96 years. In other words, to invest in equities, one must have a long-term time horizon (at least five years).
- We recommend diversification whenever possible to reach your long-term investment goals. Investment styles and the success of investment managers often run in cycles. Therefore, choosing three or more complementing investment disciplines may smooth out the overall short-term volatility of a client's portfolio. Moreover, extreme patience may be required if one is putting all of their eggs in a single manager's basket.

New Consulting Services Disciplines

AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence is pleased to announce the addition of a new strategy to the RJCS platform, Franklin Templeton Income strategy.

Franklin Templeton, founded in 1947, is the global investment management organization of holding company Franklin Resources, Inc. headquartered in San Mateo, CA. As of March 31, 2023, Franklin had approximately $1.4 trillion in assets under management. The portfolio is led by Edward Perks, CFA, who joined the overarching strategy's portfolio management team in 2002. Perks joined Franklin Templeton in 1992. Mr. Perks has primary responsibility for the investments of the strategy and final authority over all aspects of the strategy's investment portfolio(s). Perks is supported by Todd Brighton, CFA, and Brendan Circle, CFA, and the research efforts of Franklin Equity Group, specifically the U.S. Equity Research Team; Franklin Templeton Fixed Income, specifically the Corporate Credit and Bank Loans teams; and Franklin Templeton Investment Solutions, specifically ISRC perspectives. The Franklin Templeton Income strategy seeks to maximize income while maintaining prospects for capital appreciation.

The Franklin Templeton Income team's philosophy is centered around a view that undervalued or out-of-favor securities capable of generating attractive income over the near term – while offering prospects for long-term growth – can often be overlooked by market participants with a short time horizon. Through active asset allocation and diligent security selection, they believe a differentiated (often “contrarian”) perspective can contribute to compelling income generation and total returns for investors. Based on their assessments of companies' capital structures, they seek to identify those securities with attractive risk-reward characteristics which are well-suited to meet investment objectives. Shifts from one asset class to another are based on analysis of the best market opportunities; asset allocation is informed through the integration of top-down insights with bottom-up, company specific fundamental research. The result is a diversified, flexible, and opportunistic portfolio of equity, convertible, and fixed income securities.

The Franklin Templeton Income strategy seeks to achieve excellent risk-adjusted total returns, building the portfolio on a security-by-security basis. Security selection and asset allocation are not mutually exclusive; based on the assessment of a company's entire capital structure, there are instances in which they may own multiple debt tranches as well as stock. The portfolio positioning also incorporates views from the Investment Strategy Research Committee (ISRC), focused on aggregating insights from their global investment professionals. ISRC views help formulate top-down considerations for portfolio construction, which is an additional layer to the fund's primarily bottom-up fundamental investment process. The lead portfolio manager holds final authority over all aspects of the portfolio. Individual securities will comprise about 50-60% of the portfolio and the team will use an equity completion fund for 15-30% and a fixed income completion fund for the remaining 15-30%. Both completion funds have the ability to invest across asset classes to minimize tax effects and transaction costs.

The Franklin Templeton Income Strategy has the ability to look across asset classes for securities that offer attractive current income and long-term capital appreciation potential. The strategy has the potential to outperform through yield in flatter markets. The strategy has exposure to high-yield bonds that could detract from performance in economic downturns. The Franklin Templeton Income Strategy provides a diversified and dynamic asset allocation with a focus on dividend-paying stocks, high yield bonds, and other income-producing securities.

Investing involves risk and you may incur a profit or a loss. There is no assurance that any investment strategy will be successful. Past performance is not a guarantee of future results. Dividends are not guaranteed.

New Consulting Services Disciplines

AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence is pleased to announce the addition of a new strategy to the RJCS platform, Putnam U.S. Large Cap Value Equity Concentrated strategy.

Please see page 3 for news regarding Franklin Templeton's agreement to acquire Putnam Investments

Putnam Investments, founded in 1937, is an independent registered investment advisor headquartered in Boston, MA and manages approximately $169 billion as of March 31, 2023. The portfolio is led by portfolio manager, Darren Jaroch, and portfolio manager, Lauren DeMore, and are supported by a broad team of research analysts. Putnam's US Large Cap Value Equity Concentrated strategy seeks to provide consistent alpha generation using a combination of quantitative tools and fundamental research. The team believes that buying underappreciated stocks that are priced attractively and focus on cash flows instead of earnings helps them identify attractive companies. Their proprietary multi-factor model and equity research analyst team help narrow the universe to find these attractive opportunities.

The strategy seeks to achieve superior risk-adjusted returns using a relative value approach that focuses on finding attractively priced stocks and emphasizes risk management. The team uses a multi-pronged approach to idea generation that uses a combination of quantitative screens and fundamental research. The initial screen will eliminate names that do not meet their liquidity hurdles. The team then uses a proprietary multi-factor quantitative model that will highlight any issues. The model is made up of six alpha factors and over 35 underlying sub-factors including valuation, earnings quality, and momentum.

On the fundamental side, the equity research team focuses on relative value opportunities within sectors. The analysts will assess cash flow generation and any potential growth opportunities. They will look for companies with catalysts that could lead to positive change by evaluating things like the company's product cycle and management team. The analyst team will exclude companies with low-quality earnings or companies that lack a catalyst. The portfolio management team will then build a concentrated portfolio based on analyst views, valuations, and the quantitative alpha model.

Putnam's US Large Cap Value Equity Concentrated strategy portfolio tends to be concentrated with 35-45 holdings with cash typically below 5%. Annual turnover of the portfolio tends to be between 20% and 40% and security active weights will be +/- 5% relative to the Russell 1000 Value.

The Putnam U.S. Large Cap Value Equity Concentrated strategy has the potential to outperform its benchmark and peers over a full market cycle. The strategy may experience stronger relative returns potential when fundamentals matter and stock selection is rewarded. The strategy tends to lag in markets that are growth-tilted or narrowly driven by a few stocks. Putnam's US Large Cap Value Equity Concentrated strategy provides exposure to a value-oriented large-cap equity manager. The strategy is benchmarked to the Russell 1000 Value and should be used as a portion of a client's overall asset allocation and may complement investments in a growth-oriented large-cap manager.

Investing involves risk and you may incur a profit or a loss. There is no assurance that any investment strategy will be successful. Past performance is not a guarantee of future results. Dividends are not guaranteed.

WatchList Update

Downgraded to Not Recommended:

On the RJCS platform, the Ancora/Thelen Small- to Mid-Cap Equity strategy has been downgraded to Not Recommended and will be liquidated on January 31, 2024, if no action is taken. Given the downgrade to Not Recommended, no new accounts for these disciplines will be accepted, effective immediately. We strongly encourage investors to reallocate portfolios to other RJCS alternatives for which there remains a higher level of investment conviction.

Timeline:

- July 15, 2023 - Financial advisor notification
- November 30, 2023 - Letter sent to clients still invested in Ancora/Thelen Small- to Mid-Cap Equity Strategy
- January 31, 2024 - Accounts still invested will be liquidated, if not moved by January 30, 2024.

The Ancora/Thelen Small- to Mid-Cap Equity strategy has been downgraded to Not Recommended. We strongly encourage investors to reallocate to other RJCS alternatives. This decision is based on a lack of demand, continued underperformance relative to the index and peers and performance dispersion among composites.

Ancora/Thelen Small- to Mid-Cap Equity was initially added to the RJCS platform in 2011 given its differentiating approach in the small- to mid-cap space. However, over the past several years, the portfolio has underperformed its selected benchmark, the Russell 2500 Index, and fallen within the lower tier of the peer group due to poor stock selection. Additionally, alpha has been deteriorating and was negative in the last couple of years.

As of June 30, 2023, the return pattern of this strategy has translated into underperformance relative to the Russell 2500 Index over the 5-, 7-, and 10-year periods. Due to the underperformance versus its respective benchmark and peers, the AMS Manager Research team has downgraded this strategy to Not Recommended.

Given the downgrade to Not Recommended, RJCS will no longer accept newly funded or transfer accounts for this discipline, effective immediately and will discontinue management of existing accounts effective as of close of business January 31, 2024. Client letters will be mailed on November 30, 2023, to clients still invested in the strategy as of close of business day on November 30, 2023.

We encourage a reassessment of your existing allocation and consideration of similar alternatives available through AMS that may better meet your client's investment objectives. Depending on your client's individual investment objective and risk tolerances, appropriate alternatives may include:

- Copeland SMID-Cap Dividend Growth
- GW&K Small- to Mid-Cap Core
- John Hancock US Small-cap Core
- Kayne SMID-Cap Core
- Wasatch Small Cap Value

Because of this downgrade to Not Recommended, the Ancora/Thelen Small- to Mid-Cap Equity strategy accounts will cease to be managed as of the close of business on January 30, 2024. To protect against potential losses in down markets, and since accounts will no longer be actively managed, Raymond James will liquidate holdings on January 31, 2024.

WatchList Update

Currently on the Research WatchList:

Raymond James Consulting Services (RJCS) has placed the ClearBridge Investments International Value ADR strategy, on our Research WatchList as of December 2022 due to personnel changes on the portfolio management team and changes to the investment process.

The ClearBridge Investments International Value strategy seeks to invest in low expectation stocks across market capitalizations, in both developed and emerging markets, that are trading below normal valuations and have catalysts in place to spur a return to what they believe is intrinsic value. The contrarian investment style seeks undervalued companies that possess a combination of high-quality factors as well as long-term growth potential.

In November 2022, the AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence team was informed by ClearBridge Investments that two of the portfolio managers on the International Value ADR strategy would be removed from the portfolio management team and a new portfolio manager would be added. Paul Ehrlichman and Safa Muhtaseb, who have managed the strategy since 2007, will be coming off of the strategy. Sean Bogda, who has been a portfolio manager on this strategy since 2007, and Grace Su, who has been on the portfolio management team since 2017, will remain on the strategy. They will be joined by Jean Yu who has over 20 years of experience and co-manages the Value Equity Strategy. Yu received her MBA from Duke University in Health Sector Management and Finance and a PhD in Molecular Biology from Columbia University. She started her career as an analyst covering health care, industrials, and Chinese internet stocks. We were also informed that the team plans on revamping the process and will shift from more of a deep value approach to a more quality value focused approach following the team changes.

While we find the remaining portfolio managers and the new addition to the team impressive, we feel the departure of two of the portfolio managers, the shifting of responsibilities on the team, and the upcoming portfolio changes are a cause for concern. Ultimately, given the changes to the team and process, AMS Manager Research has decided to place the International Value ADR strategy on the Research Watchlist.

Over the next few quarters, our research team will closely monitor:

- The transition of Paul Ehrlichman's and Safa Muhtaseb's responsibilities to the remaining team members;
- The overall dynamic of the team with the new portfolio manager addition;
- The performance of the strategy given the team and process changes.

During this WatchList period, we would encourage a reassessment of your allocation and consideration of similar alternatives available through AMS that may meet your investment objectives. Depending on your investment objectives and risk tolerances, appropriate alternatives for the ClearBridge International Value ADR strategy in RJCS may include:

- Causeway International Value ADR
- Delaware International ADR (Not available in PS UMA)
- Eagle International ADR*
- Lazard International Select ADR
- MFS International Research ADR

WatchList Update

Currently on the Research WatchList:

Raymond James Consulting Services (RJCS) placed the ClearBridge Investments Multi-cap Growth Equity strategy on our Research WatchList as of February 2020 due to sub-par relative performance.

As of June 30, 2023, the ClearBridge Multi-cap Growth Equity strategy has remained on the WatchList based on persistent underperformance trailing the Russell 3000 Growth Index over 1-, 3-, 5-, 7-, and 10-year time periods.

We respect the investment team's consistent philosophy and non-traditional process focused on inefficiently priced companies with the potential for rapid earnings and/or cash flow growth. The process results in a unique, high conviction portfolio that's differentiated from the benchmark and peers. Portfolios of this nature are susceptible to periods of significant performance divergence from their respective benchmarks and must therefore be analyzed over an especially long-term time horizon. However, in the case of the ClearBridge Multi-cap Growth Equity strategy, the magnitude and persistence of relative underperformance over an extended period of time has caused our confidence to wane.

In November 2020, ClearBridge communicated to the AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence team that Richie Freeman, the architect and longtime portfolio manager of the ClearBridge Multi-cap Growth Equity strategy, will gradually relinquish his portfolio management responsibilities and will be officially stepping off the portfolio on December 31, 2021. Freeman remained a portfolio manager on the strategy until that time and subsequently holds a senior advisory role and retains his management committee membership at the firm. Evan Bauman, co-portfolio manager on the strategy since April 2009, will maintain his portfolio management duties. In addition, seasoned and well-respected portfolio manager Aram Green joined the investment team on March 31, 2021, as co-portfolio manager and will manage the portfolio alongside Bauman after Freeman's departure.

Aram Green has 19 years of investment industry experience and joined ClearBridge in 2006 as a technology analyst before being promoted to portfolio manager a short time later. It is important to note that Green has successfully managed a similar mandate since 2008 as he is the sole portfolio manager of the ClearBridge Select Fund that can be found in Freedom mutual fund models. Green is also a co-portfolio manager on the ClearBridge Small-cap Growth and Mid-cap Growth portfolios, both highly regarded strategies on the RJCS platform.

The ClearBridge Multi-cap Growth Equity strategy will remain on the Research WatchList. In addition to the criteria mentioned in the February 2020 Watch report, our team will closely monitor and set expectations for various factors related to investment team dynamic and portfolio characteristics. A working rapport between Green and Bauman is critical to the long-term success of the strategy, so it will be important to assess how they complement each other in terms of personality, investment mindset, and their expectations and vision for the strategy going forward. Our future discussions with the investment team will focus on the integration of Green into the process, additions of research personnel, interaction among team members, division of labor, and decision-making processes. At the strategy level, our conversations will center on gradual shifts in portfolio characteristics such as style and market cap breakdown, risk guidelines, portfolio turnover, and degree of concentration within sectors and holdings.

WatchList Update

Currently on the Research WatchList:

Raymond James Consulting Services (RJCS) has placed the Dana Investment Advisors Large Cap Equity strategy on our Research WatchList as of June 2023 due to sub-par relative performance.

The Dana Large Cap strategy is a diversified large cap blend product with a value bias. Its differentiating risk mitigation philosophy, which includes sector neutrality and equal-weighted holdings, allows the portfolio to avoid the effects of sectors falling in and out of favor and instead to focus on seeking investment in high-quality companies that trade at a discount to their intrinsic worth. The investment team utilizes quantitative modeling along with fundamental research to help identify these securities that possess attractive valuation and growth characteristics relative to peers.

Since its addition to the RJCS platform in 2013, the AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence team has met with various members from the Dana Large Cap investment team and had confidence in their ability to manage the strategy. However, prolonged underperformance has caused our confidence to deteriorate. As of June 30, 2023, the strategy trailed the S&P 500 Index over a 1-, 3-, 5-, and 10- year time horizon. Due to the underperformance versus its respective benchmark and peers, the Manager Research team has placed the strategy on the WatchList.

Over the next few quarters, our Manager Research team will closely monitor the strategy based on several criteria:

- Improvement in relative performance versus the stated benchmark and peers
- Investment team and asset stability at the strategy level
- Stock selection, portfolio construction and trading activity

During this WatchList period, we would encourage a reassessment of your client's allocation and consideration of similar alternatives available through AMS that may meet their investment objectives and risk tolerance. An appropriate alternative for the Dana Investment Advisors Large Cap Equity strategy on the RJCS platform may be:

- Columbia Threadneedle Investments Contrarian Core
- Eagle Asset Management Large Cap Core*
- J.P. Morgan Asset Management U.S. Equity
- Parnassus Investments Core Equity

WatchList Update

Currently on the Research WatchList:

Raymond James Consulting Services (RJCS) has placed the Dana Investment Advisors Social ESG strategy on our Research WatchList as of March 2021 due to consistent sub-par relative performance.

The Dana Social ESG strategy blends socially responsible and quantitative screening with in-depth fundamental analysis to identify companies with low valuations, attractive growth profiles, and cash flows. Dana recognizes that its core competency lies within security selection as opposed to sector timing and therefore creates diversified, equal-weighted portfolios that are sector neutral to the benchmark. Over the history of AMS offering the strategy, the Manager Research & Due Diligence team has met with various members from the Dana Social ESG investment team and had confidence in their ability to manage the strategy. However, prolonged underperformance has caused some of that confidence to deteriorate. As of June 30, 2023, the strategy has trailed the S&P 500 Index over 1-, 3-, 5-, 7-, and 10- year time horizons.

Although we acknowledge the headwinds of their portfolio style and believe in the consistent philosophy, process, and team that drive the strategies, such prolonged underperformance due to poor stock selection has raised enough concern to include the strategies on our WatchList.

Over the next few quarters, the AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence team will closely monitor the strategy based on several criteria:

- Improvement in relative performance versus the stated benchmark and peers
- Investment team and asset stability at the strategy level
- Stock selection, portfolio construction and trading activity

During this WatchList period, we would encourage a reassessment of your client's allocation and consideration of similar alternatives available through AMS that may meet their investment objectives, depending on their investment objectives and risk tolerance. An appropriate alternative for the Dana Investment Advisors Social ESG strategy on the RJCS platform may be:

- ClearBridge Large-cap Growth ESG
- ClearBridge Sustainability Leaders
- Parnassus Core Equity

WatchList Update

Currently on the Research WatchList:

Raymond James Consulting Services (RJCS) has placed the Neuberger Berman, LLC Sustainable Equity strategy on our Research WatchList as of April 2022 due to personnel changes.

AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence has placed the Neuberger Berman Sustainable Equity strategy on our Research WatchList due to an announced change in portfolio management personnel. The Neuberger Berman Sustainable Equity strategy seeks high-quality, attractively valued companies with long-term growth prospects. The team has historically focused on companies that meet various environmental, social, and corporate governance criteria while focusing on corporate responsibility as a hallmark of a high-quality company. In January 2022, Neuberger Berman reached out to the AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence team to announce that co-portfolio managers Sajjad Ladiwala and Ingrid Dyott, announced their intentions to retire from the firm on June 30, 2022, and December 31, 2022, respectively. Both Ladiwala and Dyott have served as portfolio managers on the strategy for more than 18 years, and the combo took over leadership of the strategy following the retirement of longtime former lead manager Arthur Moretti in early 2016. At the same time, Neuberger Berman announced the addition of Daniel Hanson to the investment team as senior portfolio manager and head of the U.S. Sustainable Equity team effective April 1, 2022. He joined Neuberger Berman from Waddell & Reed Investment Management Corporation, where he served as chief investment officer. Prior to that, he served as head of impact investing for JANA Partners. He has more than 25 years of investing experience with more than 20 years in ESG investing. He will be supported by the remaining seven members of the Sustainable Equity team, who collectively average 17 years of investing experience.

In September 2022, Neuberger informed our team that Rob Moffat, senior research analyst, and Manisha Ali, portfolio specialist, left the firm effective September 16 and September 30, 2022, respectively. Moffat decided to leave the industry, and Ali is pursuing another opportunity. This additional personnel turnover gives us further qualitative concerns about the team.

Our team has long held Ladiwala and Dyott as the key decision makers, and our confidence in the strategy has historically rested with our high opinion of their abilities. We are less familiar with Hanson as an investor and plan to further discern his philosophy on both portfolio management and ESG investing from that of Ladiwala and Dyott in future conversations. In the meantime, we have placed the strategy on our Research WatchList. During this period, our research team will closely monitor:

- Integration of Hanson as the new leader of the strategy and the team;
- Changes in philosophy and process as a result of the change in portfolio management and;
- Working relationship between Hanson and the remaining team members.

During this WatchList period, we would encourage a reassessment of your client's allocation and consideration of similar alternatives available through AMS that may meet their investment objectives, depending on their investment objectives and risk tolerance. An appropriate alternative for the Neuberger Berman Sustainable Equity Strategy on the RJCS platform may be:

- Brown Large-cap Sustainable Growth
- ClearBridge Dynamic Global Growth & Value ESG MDA
- ClearBridge Sustainability Leaders
- Parnassus Core Equity

WatchList Update

Currently on the Research WatchList:

Raymond James Consulting Services (RJCS) has placed the River Road Asset Management Focused Absolute Value strategy on our Research Watchlist as of May 2023 due to sub-par relative performance.

The River Road Asset Management Focused Absolute Value strategy is a concentrated all cap value product comprised of the firm's "best ideas". The analyst team selects names based on their risk-reward profile and the discount to the team's assessed valuation. Using a bottom-up research approach, the analysts aim to identify well-managed, financially strong companies that they believe generate consistent and sustainable cash flows and trade at attractive valuations.

Members of the AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence team have held regular meetings with the PMs and supporting analysts to investigate the causes of underperformance. While we have confidence in the process, the last few years of underperformance have caused some of that confidence to deteriorate. As of June 30, 2023, the strategy trailed the Russell 3000 Value over a 1-, 3-, 5-, 7-, and 10- year time horizon. Ultimately, while we continue to hold the philosophy, process, and team in high regard, such prolonged underperformance due to poor stock selection has raised enough concern to include the strategy on our WatchList.

Over the next few quarters, the AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence team will closely monitor the strategy based on several criteria:

- Improvement in relative performance versus the stated benchmark and peers
- Investment team and asset stability at the strategy level
- Stock selection, portfolio construction and trading activity

During this WatchList period, we would encourage a reassessment of your client's allocation and consideration of similar alternatives available through AMS that may meet their investment objectives, depending on their investment objectives and risk tolerance. WatchList Update

Currently on the Research WatchList:

Raymond James Consulting Services (RJCS) has placed the Spyglass Capital Management (“Spyglass”) Mid-cap Growth strategy on our Research Watchlist due to sub-par relative performance vs index and peers.

AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence has placed the Spyglass Mid-cap Growth strategy on our Research Watchlist due to sub-par relative performance vs index and peers. Spyglass Mid-cap Growth was initially added to the RJCS platform in 2021 given its differentiating strategy in the mid-cap growth space. The strategy is a concentrated and high conviction-based strategy with limited benchmark awareness and has the potential for higher-than-average tracking error. However, over the past two years, the portfolio has underperformed its selected benchmark, Russell Mid-cap Growth Index, and fallen within the lower tier of the peer group due to poor stock selection. Additionally, alpha has been deteriorating and was negative in the last couple of years.

As of June 30, 2023, the return pattern of this strategy has translated into underperformance relative to the Russell Mid-cap Growth Index over the 1-, 3-, and 5-year time periods. Additionally, in the last two years the Spyglass Mid-cap Growth strategy has experienced outflows coinciding with performance difficulties. While the firm remains in good financial condition and the team has been stable, the stability of the asset base is an area we are watching. Due to the underperformance versus its respective benchmark and peers, the AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence team has placed the strategy on the WatchList.

Over the next few quarters, our research team will closely monitor:

- Relative performance versus benchmark and peers
- Stock selection, portfolio construction and risk management
- Team dynamic, communication, accountability, and decision making
- Business stability and growth

During this WatchList period, we would encourage a reassessment of your allocation and consideration of similar alternatives available through AMS that may meet your investment objectives. Depending on your investment objectives and risk tolerances, appropriate alternatives for the Spyglass Mid-cap Growth strategy in RJCS may include:

- Aligned Mid-cap Equity
- Clearbridge Mid-cap Growth Equity
- Conestoga SMID-cap Growth Equity
- D.F. Dent Mid-cap Growth Equity

WatchList Update

Currently on the Research WatchList:

Raymond James Consulting Services (RJCS) has placed the Sterling Capital Management Equity Income strategy, and others, on our Research WatchList as of September 2021 due to the founder of the group's retirement and team restructuring.

The Sterling Equity Opportunities Group seeks capital appreciation and risk reduction by constructing portfolios with attractive valuations, robust operating growth, high profitability, and strong balance sheets. The team's philosophy is based upon this "four pillar approach". Each team member then adds a fifth pillar to the approach to develop a portfolio that they will manage for the group. In total, the team marketed six strategies prior to this announcement, five of which were available on RJCS: Equity Income, Special Opportunities, Global Leaders, SMID Opportunities, and Insight.

In July 2021, the AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence team was informed by Sterling Capital Management that George Shipp, founder of Sterling's Equity Opportunities Group ("EOG"), indicated his intent to retire in January 2022. Shipp founded the EOG in 2000 and was the lead portfolio manager of the team's flagship strategies, Equity Income and Special Opportunities. Upon Shipp's retirement, the team will transition from its traditional lead portfolio manager structure to a co-portfolio manager structure. This will result in portfolio management shifts to Equity Income, Special Opportunities, and Global Leaders. Therefore, due to the founder's retirement, portfolio management shifts, and overall team restructuring, the AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence team has decided to place Equity Income, Global Leaders, and Special Opportunities on the Research WatchList.

In November 2022, Sterling Capital notified the AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence of the resignation of Adam B. Bergman, co-portfolio manager of the firm's Equity Income strategy. Following Bergman's departure, the firm announced that effective November 8, 2022, Jeremy M. Lopez was promoted to serve as co-portfolio manager of the Equity Income strategy. Lopez will share this joint role with Charles J. "Chip" Wittmann. Lopez joined the firm in 2016 and has distinguished himself by establishing a solid record of analytical and portfolio management contributions. Lopez has 25 years of investment experience and, based on his intellect and investment acumen, the firm expects him to continue to build upon the team's tradition of generating attractive risk-adjusted returns for clients.

The firm has communicated that no changes to the long-standing philosophy and process of the investment strategies are expected as a result of the announcement. The AMS Manager Research & Due Diligence team views the changes as relatively unexpected and will discuss the announcement in greater detail in our upcoming meetings.

Over the next few quarters, our research team will closely monitor:

- The transition of Shipp's duties to other team members
- The performance of strategies with new portfolio managers and
- The overall dynamic of the team under its new structure.

Global Capital Markets Summary

Results are proxied by indices appropriate for the particular region or style orientation and are represented in U.S. $ terms, an important consideration when evaluating the results of Non-U.S. $ denominated assets. Global Equity Market Summary

The capital markets are becoming increasingly globalized as barriers that restrict the flow of capital steadily decline across many countries. The steady dissolution of inhibitors to cross border investment and the breadth of investable options and increased liquidity in some markets are helping to improve investor attitudes towards placing capital outside one's home country. With globalization comes the opportunity to benefit from additional diversification, a potentially favorable proposition for the stabilization of portfolio risk and return. Below is a summary of the equity capital markets, detailing regional returns based on the exposures of the MSCI EAFE and MSCI Emerging Markets indices as well as a diagnostic look at the drivers within the US market, as proxied by the Russell 3000.

Market Segmentation Study

We have parsed the Russell 3000 Index into equally distributed quartiles in terms of a broad range of fundamental metrics. The measurement shown below reflects the difference between the performance of those securities exhibiting top quartile values for the metric and those exhibiting bottom quartile values. Where top (bottom) quartile values have garnered greater return for the period, the results will fall to the left (right) of the parity axis. The purpose is to illustrate commonly used metrics in light of recent market activity. For example, results favoring lower (4th quartile) values for Price/Earnings and Price/Book Value may indicate a value tilt and/or a search for stability while results favoring high (1st quartile) values for Market Beta and low (4th quartile) values for Market Capitalization and Dividend Yield might indicate a speculative streak.

Three in a Row

The quarter ended June 30, 2023 saw the bond market (Bloomberg U.S. Aggregate) slightly down, -0.84%; but equities were up for the third quarter in a row. For Q2 2023, the MSCI ACWI (All Country World Index) was up about 6.2%, the S&P 500 gained 8.7%, and the Russell 2000 (small-cap index) was up 5.2%. Thus far in 2023 as noted below, growth equities are bouncing up after the poor 2022.

In 2022, value equities broke a 5-yr losing streak (2017-2021, Russell 1000Val vs R1000Gr) and international stocks broke a 4-yr losing streak versus the U.S. (2018-2021). Sector-wise, 2023 thus far has also been a “flip-flop” of 2022, with the worst sectors of 2022 (Communications, Consumer Discretionary, and Info Tech) now leading YTD; up 36.2%, 33.1%, and 42.8%, respectively. The lagging sectors for the YTD period thus far are Utilities and Energy, down 5.7% and 5.5%, respectively.

The recent lows for small-caps (Russell 2000) were over a year ago (mid-June 2022) and the low for the S&P 500 was in mid-October 2022. Equities overall are recovering and “climbing the wall of worry” as they often do, all the while many experts are still predicting a recession of some kind.

With June 30, 2023 data, the chart below shows that the U.S. large-caps have fully recovered but other areas are still making their way back up after 2022, but for the 10 years the average annual return has been very good for U.S. stocks:

Equity Indices, Trailing 2 years and 10 years:
S&P 500	3.4%	12.9%
S&P 500 Equal Wt.	1.5%	11.5%
Russell 2000	-8.3%	8.3%
MSCI ACWI	-0.9%	8.8%
MSCI EAFE	-1.2%	5.4%

Looking at this data we are reminded that the well-known S&P 500 Index is market-cap weighted therefore if the bigger stocks are performing very well it will outperform the equal weighted S&P 500, and vice versa. Currently, the biggest 10 stocks in the S&P 500 collectively have a weight over 31% and have a forward P/E of 29x (the remaining stocks have P/E of 18x) largely because of their higher growth prospects.

Meanwhile, in bond land, over the last 10 years high quality fixed income has earned only 1.52% on average (U.S. Aggregate, total return annually as of June 30, 2023); noting 2022 hurt the total returns from the previous years for sure. However, bond yields now are mostly very good. As of June 30, 2023, the U.S. Aggregate yielded 4.81%, U.S. High Quality Corporate 5.48%, U.S. Muni 3.52%, UK Bonds 4.99%, and the German Aggregate is at 3.35%. Japan is still low at 0.60%. U.S. high yield defaults have been low lately, and yield 8.5% (Bloomberg U.S. High Yield Index), and emerging market bonds yield is similar at about 8.4%. The yield curve is still inverted as seen by the below data:

Yields	6/30/23	12/31/22	12/31/21	12/31/20
2-year US Treas.	4.87%	4.41%	0.73%	0.12%
5-year US Treas.	4.13%	3.99%	1.26%	0.36%
10-year US Treas.	3.81%	3.88%	1.52%	0.93%
30-year US Treas.	3.85%	3.97%	1.90%	1.65%

No Recession Yet

Speaking of the still inverted yield curve, this signal has been a very accurate predictor of a GDP slowdown coming eventually. When longer rates (10yr-30yr) are lower than short rates (3 month-2yr) it typically suggests that the Fed has gone too far with rate raises and the economy will be slowing because of that; or in other cases bond buyers are just locking in the longer yields preparing for a slow economy and lower yields across the curve. Also, the June ISM (data from Institute for Supply Mgt.) manufacturing reading declined to 46, a low reading and 8 months in a row now below the key level of 50. However, the services data from ISM is still positive at 53.9, a good sign for the U.S. Since last fall the good action in equities overall seems to be predicting that any upcoming recession may be shallow or delayed, combining with unemployment still low at 3.7% and real GDP staying positive: +3.2% Q3 2022 after the slightly negative Q1-Q2 2022, then +2.6% Q4, and then +2.0% for Q1 2023; along with the current Q2 2023 prediction of again about 2% from the Atlanta Fed also.

Most Recent U.S. Economic Data:

U.S. GDP +2.0% (qtr), +1.8% (yr) Mar '23

U.S. PCE deflator +3.8%, May '23 (headline)

U.S. Inflation +4.0%, May '23 (CPI-U headline)

U.S. Unemployment 3.6%, Jun '23

U.S. Fed Funds 5.13%, Jun '23 (5.00% - 5.25%)

Source: BEA, BLS, FactSet recent data as of 6/30/23

We encourage proper diversification with stocks and bonds like usual with the various crosscurrents. The Fed may raise rates again but inflation is slowly trending down, with recent readings for PCE of 3.8% for headline and 4.6% for core PCE (possibly most important to the Fed). The public data predictions from the FOMC (Mar '23) include slow growth of +1.1% GDP for the full year 2024 and 2.6% core PCE by the end of that year. However, the FOMC current predictions are for 4.5% unemployment (at end of 2024) therefore the future few quarters may indeed be volatile.

Thank you,

The Beutel, Goodman US Large Cap Value strategy emphasizes capital preservation and aims to purchase investments at a significant discount to their estimate of intrinsic value. The team uses bottom up fundamental analysis to find quality companies with stable growing businesses and strong balance sheets that are trading at attractive valuations.

Beutel, Goodman's US Large Cap Value strategy aims to provide strong investment returns while minimizing downside risk by investing in US companies that are leaders in their respective fields. The team seeks to purchase companies at a significant discount to business value which is determined by the present value of sustainable free cash flows. The team also requires a minimum 50% upside over three years and employs a sell discipline that is designed to capture gains and mitigate risk.

The strategy's primary research screen uses an investment universe composed of the 500 largest U.S. stocks by market capitalization. The screen utilizes quality (60% weight) and value factors (40% weight) that the team believes are most important to the investment philosophy to generate an alpha score for each stock in the universe.

Note that the performance figures shown from 7/1/07 to 7/1/21 are comprised of accounts managed by BlackRock. Starting 7/1/21, the performance figures are comprised of accounts managed by Raymond James, based on non-discretionary models that are delivered by BlackRock to Raymond James. Raymond James is responsible for ensuring that accounts included in the composite from 7/1/21 and on are representative of accounts contained in the entire composite, and do not include any restricted accounts or accounts that materially deviate from the models provided by BlackRock affecting the composite performance. While composite returns are broadly representative of the performance of accounts participating in the strategy, it is important to note the returns are not necessarily representative of any individual client account due to the potential for different portfolio holdings across accounts.*

The International Growth objective seeks to provide long-term growth of capital by investing in companies in Europe and the Pacific Basin. The investment process begins with in-depth, bottom-up, fundamental research conducted by a large, experienced global team of analysts through visits to companies, their competitors, suppliers and other relevant parties. This high-quality in-house research forms the basis for identifying companies with sound industry positions and promising future prospects. Capital's portfolios are built from a natural outgrowth of fundamental research and bottom-up stock selection, in which portfolio managers and analysts have the highest convictions. Portfolio diversification comes from this process. All decisions are made within the guidelines of a portfolio's objective. Each portfolio manager is encouraged to pursue the portfolio's objective following his or her individual approach and without trying to reflect an index.

The Capital Wealth Planning, LLC ("CWP") Enhanced Dividend Income strategy ("EDI") is a covered call option strategy and requires investors to sign an Option Agreement and Suitability Form and obtain Option Strategy Level 1 approval.

Attempting to achieve a higher yield, CWP constructs portfolios of mega-cap, high quality, blue chip stocks that are diversified across sectors while tactically selling short term call options to generate additional income. Through implementation of a covered call strategy, CWP believes that it can reduce portfolio volatility while generating a modest but consistent income stream across various markets.

The Chartwell's Small Mid Cap Value Equity investment team believes a company's valuation relative to its history is a more important indicator of potential than its valuation relative to the market. Company performance and fundamentals tend to vary around a central tendency, which reflects the basic economics of its business and its industry, not that of the market. Reversion to this mean is likely to occur; therefore, cycles in this valuation framework are important indicators of potential.

Jeff Hakala and his team of analysts utilize a custom profitability metric and proprietary quantitative screen to narrow investment candidates based on the maximum rate they believe each company can grow without accessing capital markets for funding. The investment team seeks consistently high cash returns on net operating assets, strong free cash generation, and robust balance sheets. The bottom up portfolio construction process leads to a benchmark agnostic portfolio that can hold a significant allocation to cash over longer time periods and is a reflection of the team's perceived investment opportunity set. The advisory fee will be assessed to the cash position and this strategy may not be appropriate for those clients who wish to be fully invested in the market. See Current Style Allocation for current cash positioning. Additional information regarding the investment philosophy is available from your financial advisor via the Clarkston Founders (Mid-cap) Factsheet.

The Appreciation strategy focuses on capital appreciation through a core portfolio that has the flexibility to select stocks exhibiting growth or value characteristics.

As part of the initial stages of the investment process, the team utilizes a proprietary quantitative screening process that seeks to identify attractive areas of the market while narrowing the potential investment universe. The team then utilizes a combination of bottom-up stock selection along with a top-down thematic approach in an attempt to identify inefficiently priced companies with strong fundamentals, strong management, and dominant positions within their respective industry.

The ClearBridge Dividend Strategy seeks dividend income, growth of dividend income, and long-term capital appreciation to construct portfolios with an attractive dividend yield.

As part of the initial process, the team employs a quantitative screening process that attempts to filter companies by focusing on sales growth, margins, asset turnover, credit statistics, dividend yield, and a history of or potential for dividend growth. The team then utilizes a bottom-up stock selection approach in an attempt to identify dividend paying securities with strong balance sheets trading at attractive prices with dominant positions in their respective industry.

RJCS has placed the ClearBridge Investments Multi-cap Growth Equity strategy on the Research Watchlist due to subpar relative performance.

The Multi-cap Growth team seek companies whose stocks have the potential for rapid earnings growth and/or cash flow growth. This concentrated multi-capitalization discipline does not force a sell decision based upon company size and allows for longer holding periods, which may allow returns to be compounded. The intense bottom-up investment process seeks to identify inefficiently priced companies with strong fundamentals, strong management, and dominant positions in niche markets and/or goods or services in high demand by the consumer.

Guy Pope leads this strategy with a unique philosophy - that investor pessimism is an investor's ally and can be a great source of alpha. As a result, the process is built around executing on the philosophy and exploiting this core belief. The process begins with a proprietary investment screen to identify stocks that have fallen out of favor and are trading towards their 52-week lows. A secondary screen identifies if these securities are trading below their long-term averages. The resulting output is a list of securities that is then assessed by the team in an effort to determine whether the depreciated stock price is being caused by transitory factors or negative secular headwinds. Based on that assessment, stocks are chosen for rigorous bottom-up research, including but not limited to: fundamental and quantitative research, management on-site visits, and utilization of industry experts and Wall Street research.

"RJCS has placed Dana Large Cap Equity strategy on the Research Watchlist due to subpar relative performance"

The Dana Large-cap Core strategy seeks undervalued companies relative to the market with reasonable appreciation over the near-term. By combining quantitative and fundamental analysis, Dana seeks to create a portfolio of companies with improving earnings outlook trading at attractive prices with the goal of providing downside protection.

To further mitigate risk relative to the benchmark, portfolios are constructed as sector neutral and are typically equal-weighted.

Eagle Asset Management's Large-cap Core Balanced philosophy employs two core beliefs about investing. First, that all companies, industries, sectors and economies move in cycles. Second, most people inefficiently react to these cycles.

The selection process starts with quantitative tools that provide confidence that opportunities fit within the team's philosophy, but the team believes that the subjective nature of investing requires the steady hand of an experienced professional. The long-tenured team uses its judgment and expertise to confirm potential investment ideas uncovered by the process.

Eagle's Mid-cap Growth Equity program employs a thorough bottom-up stock selection to identify rapidly growing mid-cap companies that are reasonably priced. Many of these companies are selling innovative goods and services that are transforming the way people live and work, and are found in a wide range of industries. Most stocks are purchased at less than $12 billion in market-cap. When combined with other RJCS smaller-cap managers, it is best paired with managers with value biases.

The Eagle Municipal Strategic Income Portfolio is a risk-focused investment program designed to seek stable and growing income as well as the potential for capital appreciation. The portfolio attempts to find and balance higher-yielding equity and tax-exempt fixed-income securities in an actively managed account. We anticipate the long-term allocation mix will approximate a 50-50 blend of stocks and bonds; however, allocations for either asset class may range from 35% to 65%. Typically, the cash level in the portfolio will not exceed 30%.

The Eagle Small-cap Growth strategy will no longer accept new accounts due to capacity constraints. Existing clients may continue to deposit and the Eagle small-cap Growth strategy will remain open.

The Small-cap Growth team adheres to a bottom-up stock selection philosophy and believes that smaller companies with unique business concepts or niche products may be poised for growth while remaining reasonable priced. The team generates investment ideas from many sources, including proprietary research, recommendation of colleagues, third-party research and publications. Analysts favor companies with high growth and positive catalysts that might lead to even more growth, looking for companies with what they believe are reasonable valuations.

The SMID-cap team seeks to invest in high-quality small to mid-cap companies at a discount to what it perceives as fair market value. Using a consistent and repeatable investment process, the team creates an attractive risk profile designed to reduce some of the volatility inherent in these asset classes by focusing on defensive business models. The team believes that market fluctuations allow for opportunistic entry points, and a strict sell discipline allows the potential to capture returns while mitigating risk. The SMID Select strategy is a more concentrated version of the team's SMID-cap strategy.

The Eagle Strategic Income Portfolio is a risk-focused investment program designed to seek stable and growing income as well as the potential for capital appreciation. The portfolio attempts to find and balance higher-yielding equity and fixed-income securities in an actively managed account. We anticipate the long-term allocation mix will approximate a 50-50 blend of stocks and bonds; however, allocations for either asset class may range from 35% to 65%. Typically, the cash level in the portfolio will not exceed 30%.

*For accounts under $250,000, AMS will hold ETFs for the fixed income portion.

The Edge investment team believes that companies that pay dividends are better stewards of capital and that management teams of dividend paying companies are less likely to engage in activities that are not accretive. The Small Mid-cap Dividend Income strategy seeks to invest in companies that have the commitment and capacity to pay dividends, can consistently grow dividends over time, and demonstrate a commitment to shareholders.

Dividends are not guaranteed and a company's future ability to pay dividends may be limited.

Andrew Bruner and team invest with a conservative approach in an attempt to outperform the overall market. They seek out-of-favor companies that have promising growth prospects, emphasizing quality of earnings and high return on capital and equity. The team believes the key to long-term investment success is to avoid significant losses through a flexible framework of investing in high-quality, well-managed companies using a value-oriented approach. The philosophy seeks to unearth attractively priced, well-managed and structurally sound companies while avoiding those that look inexpensive relative to their historical records but are actually in long-term structural decline ("value traps").

The influence of behavioral investing thought-leaders such as Nobel Prize winners Dr. Daniel Kahneman and Dr. Richard Thaler, as well as current CIO Dr. Russell Fuller, directly shape the strategic direction for Fuller & Thaler - further into the understanding of behavioral investing, and specifically, how to capitalize on it. The overarching philosophy points to efficient markets in the long-term, but inefficient markets in the short-term, as a result of human behavior. Thus, the Small-cap Value product, led by David Potter, seeks to exploit these inefficiencies and capitalize on over-reactions, market biases, and human emotions.

The Guardian Capital Fundamental Global Equity investment team seeks to invest in high quality companies that can protect on the downside while remaining valuation conscious with a focus on sustainable growth driven by secular tailwinds. The team looks at a narrow range of stocks with a deep fundamental lens that typically takes a year to six months to analyze a company. Once invested, the team usually hold these companies over a longer than average investment horizon with the expectation to provide better risk adjusted returns.

Through bottom-up systematic research and the daily screening of company fundamentals across more than 1,200 stocks, the Global Dividend strategy seeks to isolate stock selection as the primary source of value. While differences in local accounting standards make cross-border company comparisons difficult, the firm's research shows that comparing the rate of change in company fundamentals within a global sector can add value. The team understands that markets are not always rational, so its model dynamically adjusts the factor weights as each factor's relevance in a given economic environment changes. Yet prior to implementation, the portfolio management team discusses portfolio recommendations to ensure the model output is consistent and economically relevant.

Hamlin's Equity Income team has a dividend-focused philosophy at the backbone of their investment process. The team believes that a healthy and consistent dividend policy endorses historic accounting statements, acts as an effective governor on capital allocation, and can help to smooth volatile performance over longer periods of time. The universe of investments is narrowed first by relative dividend yield, with a subsequent focus on companies with strong balance sheets and high-quality earnings. Deep fundamental research helps to analyze the true quality of earnings and the ability to cover future dividend payments.

Real estate investment trusts (REITs) have made it possible for individual investors to participate in real estate investments, which traditionally see their total rate of return come from income and capital appreciation potential of publicly traded investment vehicles. Invesco seeks to maximize consistency of investment returns. Real estate, as an asset class, can increase diversification as a component of a well-allocated portfolio. The strategy employs a disciplined, relative value-oriented strategy for stock selection, with a bottom-up investment approach. It focuses on equity REITs, the segment of the publicly traded REIT market that has historically provided the highest risk-adjusted returns over the long term. This includes approximately 150 securities. The team designs portfolios of attractively priced, high-quality companies in an attempt to reduce risk.

The John Hancock US Small-cap Core is a diversified strategy that focuses on niche companies with improving profitability, at attractive valuations. With the help of fundamental research, the long-tenured investment team identifies companies with cash flow and earnings growth visibility, manageable risks, and above average returns on capital. Portfolio stocks must have a minimum of 12% per annum target return for three years, a positive reward/risk, and undergo a thorough team discussion of a business model checklist and source of mispricing. The strategy aims to outperform in both advancing and declining markets, but may struggle in narrow, speculative, and high momentum markets.

The MFS Large-cap Value strategy is managed using a traditional value style that relies on bottom-up, fundamental research. Tenured portfolio manager Nevin Chitkara follows a disciplined and conservative approach to investing with a consistent focus on value - the security must be inexpensive versus the market, peers, and its industry. The investment team targets companies possessing outstanding management teams, strong balance sheets, and the ability to generate strong free cash flow to support earnings. The portfolio managers rely heavily on the pooled research analysts within the global sector teams, working with the analysts to assess the characteristics of the company, future expectations, the consistency of the company's business and results over time, and its valuation parameters.

This growth-at-a-reasonable-price manager seeks out strong market leaders outside of the U.S., regardless of location and size. The diversified international strategy can buy small, mid, and large-cap companies as they find opportunities abroad. By applying in-depth fundamental analysis, this strategy seeks to identify attractive companies with competitive advantages that trade at a discount to the team's assessment of fair values.

The team believes that high quality companies trading at discounted valuations have the potential to outperform their peers with less risk over a full market cycle. The team utilizes a bottom-up international stock selection process, finding companies that are growing, but also have reasonable valuations.

River Road runs a Dividend All-cap Value discipline that seeks dividend paying companies selling at a discount to their perceived absolute value. The team uses a fundamentally driven research process to identify purchase candidates from a multi-cap universe of undervalued or potentially high-yielding equity securities.

Stocks selected for purchase are thought by River Road to be well-managed, financially sound firms with high and growing dividend yields. This strategy also targets companies that they believe are trading at a meaningful discount to their assessed absolute value.

Dividends are not guaranteed and a company's future ability to pay dividends may be limited.

RJCS has placed River Road Focused Absolute strategy on the Research Watchlist due to subpar relative performance

River Road's Focused Absolute Value strategy closed to new accounts as of January 31, 2019, due to capacity constraints.

The River Road Focused Absolute Value strategy is a concentrated all cap value product comprised of the firm's "best ideas". Selected by the analyst team, these names are measured based on their risk-to-reward profile and the discount to the team's assessed valuation. Utilizing a bottom-up research approach, the team looks for well-managed, financially strong companies that they believe generate consistent and sustainable cash flows and trade at attractive discounts.

The Schafer Cullen Enhanced Equity Income strategy is a covered call option strategy and requires investors to sign an Option Agreement and Suitability Form and obtain Option Strategy Level 1 approval.

The Schafer Cullen Enhanced Equity Income strategy seeks to identify stocks that are inexpensive on a price to earnings and/or price to book basis with a catalyst that they believe should result in stronger than average earnings growth over 3 to 5 years. The investment team favors companies that can sustain their current dividend payment and increase dividends over time. For a stock to be available for inclusion within the portfolio, it must pay a minimum 3% dividend with substantial option volume and liquidity. Through the implementation of a dynamic covered call overlay, the Schafer Cullen investment team believes they can mitigate risk while attempting to generate a consistent income stream across various market environments.

*While composite returns are broadly representative of the performance of accounts participating in the discipline, it is important to note the returns are not necessarily representative of any individual client account due to the potential for different portfolio holdings across accounts. Stock purchase and sales are generally coupled with option transactions and therefore will vary between client accounts based on the timing of account opening. Different stocks may be considered for purchase across individual client accounts due to current option pricing based on intrinsic and time value at the time of the transaction. These accounts will have significant exposure to short term capital gains tax and any concerns should be addressed with an appropriate tax professional.

"RJCS has placed Spyglass Mid-Cap Growth strategy on the research Watchlist due to subpar relative performance"

The Spyglass Mid-cap Growth strategy is a concentrated, mid-cap portfolio of 25 rapidly growing U.S. companies. The portfolio is comprised of businesses operating across a wide array of industries that are experiencing secular growth trends. Spyglass seeks to identify these businesses before the consensus opinion agrees with its expectations. Spyglass believes that the essential skill in generating returns that beat the market over the long term is the ability to develop out-of-consensus opinions that are validated by other investors agreeing with it – later.

RJCS has placed the Sterling Equity Income Strategy on the Research Watchlist due to personnel changes.

The Sterling Capital Equity Income strategy seeks to invest in U.S. listed stocks above $4 billion in market capitalization being quantitatively screened by the analysts and the portfolio manager for the dividend criteria of a minimum yield above the S&P 500 Index and history of raising the dividend three consecutive years or six of the last ten years. The investment team focuses on achieving the highest risk adjusted total return and dividend growth, not exclusively on the highest yielding stocks. This approach may allow the portfolio to generate superior total returns, but lower total dividend yield than competitors.

The strategy seeks long-term capital appreciation by looking for companies at historically low valuations that have what they feel may be catalysts for appreciation. It is the team's belief that buying undervalued stocks with a catalyst or competitive advantage will lead to greater performance than the peers and benchmark over a full market cycle. The team calls this philosophy the "search for value poised for growth".

Experienced portfolio manager Diane Jaffee is a significant factor in finding the broad definition of opportunistic value that the strategy permits.

The Wasatch Small-cap Value Equity strategy is an extension of Wasatch's growth approach. Through a fundamental, bottom-up research approach, the investment team seeks to capitalize on the inefficiencies of markets created when growth stocks become value stocks. The Wasatch Small-cap Value strategy seeks to capture earnings growth and multiple expansion from growing smaller companies. Managed by long tenured portfolio manager Jim Larkins, the Small-cap Value Equity investment team seeks durable growth from high quality, well-managed companies that are temporarily mispriced, but have potential catalysts to generate sustainable competitive earnings over a 3-5 years investment horizon.

Performance represents the RJCS gross of any fees composite.

Past performance does not guarantee future results. All investments are subject to risk and you may incur a profit or a loss. Asset allocation and diversification do not ensure a profit or protect against a loss. Indices are not available for direct investment. Any investor who attempts to mimic the performance of an index would incur fees and expenses which would reduce returns.

*While quarterly performance is informative, we encourage investors to judge investment skill over long time horizons. Please see RJCS performance disclosures beginning on pg.217.
 Returns and portfolio statistics shaded in gray reflect the periods that include manager-supplied performance that predate the discipline's availability through the RJCS program. Please see following pages for additional information on the manager's and RJCS composite inception dates and performance linking process.

RJCS and UMA Manager Disclosures

All expressions of opinion in the foregoing reflect the judgment of the Asset Management Services (“AMS”) division of Raymond James & Associates, Inc. (“Raymond James”) and/or the manager and are subject to change without notice. Information in this report has been obtained from sources considered reliable, but we do not guarantee its accuracy, completeness or timeliness. Third party data providers make no warranties or representations as to the accuracy, completeness or timeliness of the data they provide. Content provided herein is for informational purposes only and should not be used or construed as investment advice or a recommendation regarding the purchase or sale of any security outside of a Raymond James Consulting Services (“RJCS”) managed account. This should not be considered forward looking, and does not guarantee the future performance of any investment.

Overview of RJCS Performance:

Raymond James does not claim compliance with the CFA Institute’s Global Investment Performance Standards (“GIPS”) and composite performance presented herein is not GIPS verified.

Performance is presented using the time-weighted return methodology, which attempts to smooth out the impact of contributions and/or withdrawals (or “cash flows”), if any, from the underlying accounts invested in the discipline when calculating the returns. Time-weighted returns are presented for the purpose of standardizing performance for comparison to the benchmark index, which does not experience such cash flows and cannot be invested in directly. Alternatively, asset-weighted returns (also known as dollar- or money-weighted returns) reflect the timing and size of cash flows on an account’s performance, and while it is a more accurate representation of true account performance of an account when these cash flows occur, it limits the usefulness of comparing how investments are performing in relation to the index since these indices do not experience such flows. That is, contributions to or withdrawals from an account are invested in or redeemed from the portfolio as they occur and therefore asset-weighted returns will impact the performance of an account based on the prices of the securities when these flows occur.

Performance includes reinvestment of all income, dividends and capital gains, and includes cash in the total returns. Dividends are not guaranteed and a company’s future ability to pay dividends may be limited. When accounts open in RJCS, performance is based on a size-weighted (asset-weighted) composite of all fully discretionary, wrap-fee accounts managed under the manager’s investment discipline in the RJCS program. RJCS composite performance begins when the manager has three or more accounts opened and invested in the RJCS program for more than one quarter. Canceled accounts remain in the composite through their last full quarter. RJCS composite performance is compiled from sources believed to be reliable; however, performance has not been independently verified by a third party auditor. Reported composite performance was not duplicated by any individual account, resulting in a different return for any one particular investor.

Certain manager disciplines available through the RJCS program includes performance that may be comprised in part or wholly from gross returns supplied by the manager to Raymond James. These returns, which reflect the historical returns achieved by the manager’s non-RJCS clients, are “linked” to RJCS composite returns to display historical returns that cover periods prior to the manager’s investment discipline(s) being available through the RJCS program. This linking process is intended to provide a more comprehensive historical view of the performance of the particular discipline. Raymond James believes linking these returns is broadly representative of the returns that would have been reasonably achieved by an investor over the time periods referenced herein, although no one particular individual RJCS program client achieved such returns. When linking occurs, the trailing and calendar year returns and the corresponding standard deviation and Modern Portfolio Theory Stats have been shaded in gray to identify the periods reflecting manager-supplied returns. In addition, the RJCS composite inception date, and the manager’s composite inception date if less than 10 years, are referenced to assist you and your financial advisor in evaluating which periods include, and for how long, returns that pre-date the manager’s discipline being available through the RJCS program. Raymond James monitors performance achieved by its RJCS program clients and compares them to returns these managers have reported to data providers such as Morningstar. If Raymond James determines that its RJCS program client’s performance and the returns reported to third party data providers are materially different for an extended period of time and no longer considered to be representative of a RJCS program client’s experience, it will no longer present linked returns in the future. Linking generally occurs when the RJCS composite inception date is less than 10 years through the noted performance period end date. Manager-supplied performance, while believed to be reliable, has not been independently verified and therefore its accuracy cannot be guaranteed.

Gross performance does not show the impact of investment advisory and management fees and expenses, which are incurred in an RJCS program account, and will have an effect that could be significant on the returns you may individually experience. Similarly, returns of the benchmark indices shown, which are not available for direct investment, would also be reduced by the deduction of fees and expenses were an index available for direct investment. The gross performance displayed is historical and is comprised of client accounts invested in the applicable discipline and represents the actual performance experience of these clients.

Net performance reflects the deduction of the maximum applicable RJCS program fee from the gross performance (including any third-party manager linked gross performance) to illustrate the maximum performance impact of the RJCS program advisory fees. Individual clients may be assessed a lower fee than the maximum based on the size of their advisory relationship with Raymond James and pricing arrangements made with their financial advisor. Although an investor may experience a lower fee impact on their individual performance based on the asset value of their relationship and personalized pricing arrangement (if any) with their financial advisor, the maximum fee net returns are shown to illustrate the effect that the maximum fees and expenses that could be charged would have on the performance shown. The maximum fee for Equity, Balanced and ETF disciplines is generally 2.60% and 2.75% for a certain limited number non-model delivery disciplines, 2.55% for Fixed Income disciplines, and 2.45% for Laddered Bonds and Short Term Conservative Fixed Income disciplines. Composite performance is calculated on a monthly basis, and these monthly returns are then linked to calculate the periodic trailing and calendar year returns. The net fee is calculated by dividing the maximum annual program fee by 12 to reflect the monthly fee rate and the result is then deducted from the monthly gross return. Performance returns presented herein reflect the effects of compounding, where each periodic return is impacted by the prior period’s return so that gains or losses earlier in the period will compound over the entire period. For example, a $100,000 account that experienced a 5% return during the period would have an ending value of $105,000, and this end of period value will be the beginning value for the next performance period instead of using the original $100,000 investment. For clarity, the impact of compounding on the net fee returns will result in a net return for the period being higher or lower than the maximum RJCS program fee noted above. For complete information regarding the fee schedule and breakpoints please see the applicable advisory agreement and the Raymond James Wrap Fee Program Brochure.

Some managers may invest in closed-end funds and/or exchange traded funds and therefore there are additional expenses embedded in these funds that are in addition to the RJCS program fees assessed by Raymond James; however, the performance shown reflects the effects of these additional expenses.

Performance Dispersion

AMS Manager Research monitors how RJCS accounts are performing relative to the managers' institutional or retail managed accounts and/or pooled vehicles, making sure any differences in performance are explainable. Also, we monitor the performance differences within the AMS accounts held here at the firm. In RJCS program accounts, no one account has performed like the size-weighted composite average that AMS presents (approximately half of the accounts are higher than the average, half are lower). This is called performance dispersion. Most accounts perform relatively close to the composite average, but some accounts do indeed perform worse than the average, often during the first year or two or during periods when cash flows occur (that is, additions to or withdrawals from the account), particularly when these flows occur when markets are experiencing heightened volatility. The following factors may explain why an account may have performed significantly different than the composite over a relatively short time period. In general, performance dispersion is not a problem after accounts have been invested and traded for more than a couple years:

- 1) The main cause of dispersion is different securities or weightings held:
 - Some managers have "holds," not just "buys" and "sells," which causes different holdings. "Holds" are normally associated with price-conscious managers. For example, value managers often use strict buy and sell target prices.
 - Liquidity & percent ownership restrictions, when small- and mid-cap managers elect to buy new ideas for the new RJCS accounts while holding on to stocks for old accounts.
 - Client cash flows may cause re-balancing, which may cause different weightings in securities or funds, or even different stocks held between accounts.
- 2) Specific to RJCS, tax-advantages of individual accounts may cause dispersion:
 - Managers let "winners" run and may not buy the large percent of a position in "new" accounts, which causes these to perform differently than the "old" accounts.
 - The attention to long-term holding periods may cause managers to hang on to a position for old accounts while buying a different position for new accounts.
- 3) Other causes of performance dispersion:
 - Temporary cash drag - Initial investment may take up to five or six months for an RJCS account.
 - Volatility - Higher risk asset classes such as small-cap and international will cause more dispersion by nature.

Trade Discretion – Model Delivery versus Separately Managed Accounts

Most managers provide AMS model portfolios that comprise securities recommended by the manager for designated investment disciplines available in the RJCS program, and the managers will thereafter will communicate periodic updates to AMS as changes occur to their model portfolios. Should a client select a model portfolio investment discipline, under the RJCS program agreement the client delegates discretionary trading authority to AMS to effect purchases and sales of model portfolio securities. For all other investment disciplines not classified as model portfolios (referred to as separately managed accounts, or "SMAs"), the manager will exercise discretionary trading authority for SMA disciplines. Unlike SMA disciplines, under the model delivery arrangement, managers provide AMS with a model portfolio and are generally not involved in organizing or effecting portfolio trades. AMS retains trading authority rather than the manager, and therefore, trades are generally expected to be executed through Raymond James. In addition, Raymond James, rather than the manager, is responsible for proxy voting (unless this authority has been retained by the client), as well as submitting instructions related to corporate actions such as reorganizations and tender offers. There may be differences in trade rotation, timing, and other factors, which could cause performance dispersion where a manager has trade discretion over RJCS program client accounts versus AMS.

SMA Managers that Trade Away from Raymond James:

- SMA Managers that specialize in fixed income, international, small-cap or exchange-traded product disciplines will be more likely to trade away from Raymond James due to market dynamics, liquidity, exchange availability, institution specialty or other factors they consider relevant in satisfying their best execution obligations to clients.
- In the event an SMA Manager elects to utilize brokers or dealers other than Raymond James to affect a block order in a recommended security ("trade away" from Raymond James), brokerage commissions and other charges are generally assessed to the block order by the executing broker or dealer. In the event an SMA Manager elects to trade away from Raymond James, those transactions are generally traded from broker to broker and are frequently cleared without any commissions. However, you should be aware that, in many cases, the executing broker or dealer may assess a commission or other charges to the block order and such costs will be in addition to the RJCS program wrap fee assessed by Raymond James. As a result, the net purchase or sale price reflected on trade confirmations and brokerage statements provided by Raymond James on these trades may embed brokerage commissions or dealer markups or markdowns charged by the executing broker, that are not separately itemized by Raymond James. For example, a block order of security XYZ purchased for $10 that is assessed a commission of $.01 (1 cent) per share by the executing broker would show a purchase price in the client's account of $10.01.
- Raymond James will identify individual equity trades that have been traded away by the SMA Manager on the client's trade confirmation and will report the aggregate cost, if any, to clients in their brokerage statement on a quarterly basis. Additional information regarding the frequency and average costs related to trading away is available on Raymond James public website (see "Important Information Regarding Investment Manager Trading Practices" at www.raymondjames.com/disclosure-trading-practices, or a copy may be obtained from your financial advisor).
- The "market" for fixed income securities is largely comprised of dealers that trade over the counter amongst themselves and very few bonds trade on organized exchanges. Due to the structure of the fixed income market, the participating dealers do not currently, nor are they required to, disclose the markup, markdown or spread at which purchases and sales are affected. As a result, SMA Managers that trade fixed income securities away from Raymond James are unable to provide this information to Raymond James, and Raymond James is currently unable to present such information to clients. Please contact your financial advisor for more information.

Portfolio Risks:

- Fixed-income securities (or “bonds”) are exposed to various risks including but not limited to credit (risk of default or principal and interest payments), market and liquidity, interest rate, reinvestment, legislative (changes to the tax code), and call risks.
- There is an inverse relationship between interest rate movements and fixed income prices. Generally, when interest rates rise, fixed income prices fall and when interest rates fall, fixed income prices generally rise. Short-term bonds with maturities of three years or less will generally have lower yields than long term bonds which are more susceptible to interest rate risk.
- Callable bonds generally offer a higher yield than non-callable bonds as they have the option to call the bonds and repay the principal prior to maturity. Issuers will generally be inclined to initiate a call if interest rates have declined since the bonds were first issued, as they can reissue new bonds at a lower interest rate. Investors will then be positioned to reinvest return on principal in a declining interest rate environment, thus receiving a lower yield going forward.
- Credit risk includes the creditworthiness of the issuer or insurer, and possible prepayments of principal and interest. Bonds may receive credit ratings from a number of agencies however, Standard & Poor’s ratings range from AAA to D, with any bond with a rating BBB or higher considered to be investment grade. Securities rated below investment grade generally provide a higher yield but carry a higher risk of default which could result on a loss of the principal investment. Because high-yield bonds have greater credit and default risk they may not be appropriate for all investors. While bonds rated investment grade have lower credit and default risk, there is no guarantee securing the principal investment.
- Investors should consider the Yield to Worst (YTW) of a bond or bond portfolio versus the Current Yield as the YTW is the lowest potential yield that that can be received without default. YTW takes into account any bonds that could be called prior to maturity.
- Securities issued by certain U.S. government-related organizations are not backed by the full faith and credit of the U.S. government and therefore no assurance can be given that the U.S. government will provide financial backing should an issue default.
- Please note these portfolios may be subject to state, local, and/or alternative minimum taxes. You should discuss any tax or legal matters with the appropriate professional.
- Investing in emerging markets can be riskier than investing in well-established foreign markets. Emerging and developing markets may be less liquid and more volatile because they tend to reflect economic structures that are generally less diverse and mature and political systems that may be less stable than those in more developed countries.
- Investing in small-cap stocks generally involves greater risks, and therefore, may not be appropriate for every investor. Stocks of smaller or newer or mid-sized companies may be more likely to realize more substantial growth as well as suffer more significant losses than larger or more established issuers.
- Commodities trading is generally considered speculative because of the significant potential for investment loss. Among the factors that could affect the value of the fund’s investments in commodities are cyclical economic conditions, sudden political events, changes in sectors affecting a particular industry or commodity, and adverse international monetary policies. Markets for precious metals and other commodities are likely to be volatile and there may be sharp price fluctuations even during periods when prices overall are rising.
- Specific sector investing such as real estate can be subject to different and greater risks than more diversified investments. Declines in the value of real estate, economic conditions, property taxes, tax laws and interest rates all present potential risks to real estate investments.
- Some accounts may invest in Master Limited Partnership (“MLP”) units, which may result in unique tax treatment. MLPs may not be appropriate for ERISA or IRA accounts, and cause K-1 tax treatment. Please consult your tax adviser for additional information regarding the tax implications associated with MLP investments.
- Alternative investments are generally considered speculative in nature and may involve a high degree of risk, particularly if concentrating investments in one or few alternative investments. These risks are potentially greater and substantially different than those associated with traditional equity or fixed income investments. The investment strategies used by certain Funds may require a substantial use of leverage. The investment strategies employed, and associated risks are more fully disclosed in each Fund’s prospectus, which is available from your financial advisor.
- Changes in the value of a hedging instrument may not match those of the investment being hedged.
- These portfolios may be subject to international, small-cap and sector-focus exposures as well. Accounts may have over weighted sector and issuer positions and may result in greater volatility and risk.
- Companies in the technology industry are subject to fierce competition, and their products and services may be subject to rapid obsolescence
- Options involve unique and potentially significant risks and are not suitable for everyone. Option trading can be speculative in nature and may carry substantial risk of loss. Raymond James limits the use of options to hedging strategies in managed accounts (e.g., covered calls and put purchases with limited downside risk). Prior to accepting an account for options activity investors must be given the Option Disclosure Document titled “Characteristics and Risks of Standardized Options” and must complete and submit an Option Agreement and Suitability Form for Raymond James review and approval prior to transacting option trades. Clients may only employ those strategies that have been approved. These documents are available from your financial advisor.
- Preferred stock values are inversely related to interest rates. While typically entitled to higher priority than common stockholders, preferred stockholders are not guaranteed to receive dividends. Preferred stock carries a lower priority than debt securities in the event of the issuer’s bankruptcy. Some preferred stocks may include the option of being convertible to common stock, and conversion may be forced by the issuer.
- Specific sector investing such as real estate can be subject to different and greater risks than more diversified investments. Declines in the value of real estate, economic conditions, property taxes, tax laws and interest rates all present potential risks to real estate investments. In a rising interest rate environment REITs (real estate investment trusts) may experience an increase in rent rates or mortgage rates or may experience higher acquisition costs.
- A REIT is a company that owns – and typically operates – income-producing real estate or real estate-related assets. The income-producing real estate assets owned by a REIT may include real assets (e.g., apartment or commercial buildings) or real estate-related debt (e.g., mortgages). Most REITs specialize in a single type of real estate.
- REITs may also provide debt and equity financing directly or indirectly through the acquisition of mortgage-backed securities. These REITs tend to be more leveraged than property based REITs and may manage interest rate and credit risks through the use of derivatives and other hedging techniques. There are additional risks inherent to these strategies and risk factors can be reviewed in greater detail via a REITs Form 10-K.
- REIT dividends generally do not receive the favorable tax treatment which is accorded to qualified dividends. Qualified dividends that meet certain criteria may be taxed at the lower long-term capital gains tax rate rather than the higher ordinary income tax rate. REIT dividends distributions are generally allocated to ordinary income, capital gains, and return of capital for tax purposes each of which may be taxed at a different rate. Please consult your tax advisor regarding your individual tax circumstances.
- Investors should be aware of conflicts of interests inherent to REITs. They may be managed by their own employees or may hire an external manager oversee their investments and operations. The manager may be paid significant transaction fees by the REIT for services that may not necessarily align with the interests of shareholders such as but not limited to fees based on the amount of property acquisitions and assets under management. In addition, the external manager may manage or be affiliated with other companies that may compete with the REIT in which you are invested or that are paid by the REIT for services provided, such as property management or leasing fees.

- Most ETFs are structured as open-end management investment companies whose investment objective is to achieve a return similar to that of a particular market index. An ETF will invest in either all of the securities or a representative sample of the securities included in the index they track. ETFs may be bought or sold throughout the day in the secondary market but are generally not redeemable by retail investors for the underlying basket of securities they track. Mutual funds are typically actively managed, and as a result, the underlying management fees and operating expenses assessed by the fund companies are generally higher than those for ETFs. Because ETFs have the characteristics of both stocks and mutual funds, it is possible to measure performance in two ways. Because ETFs are traded in the secondary market like stocks, performance can be measured in terms of the market price of the ETF. However, since the underlying value of the ETF is based on the securities held in the fund, like a mutual fund, it also can be measured in terms of the Net Asset Value. Both of these are shown above, with the total returns based on the closing market price of the ETF listed first and NAV performance shown below. We believe that market price performance is more representative of our clients' experiences due to the fact that all transactions conducted for Freedom ETF are done in the secondary market.
- Certain SMA Managers may wish to invest in an affiliated fund of their firm to achieve greater portfolio diversification than would generally be available by purchasing individual securities, particularly fixed income, and international securities. The affiliated mutual fund is available exclusively for investment by SMA clients ("SMA Fund") and neither the SMA Manager nor their affiliate(s) may receive additional compensation as a result of investing in the SMA Fund (other than possibly a small portion of the Fund in their firm's money market fund which charges an expense ratio). In addition, the SMA Manager, or the SMA Fund's affiliated Adviser/Trustee, must waive its management fee, and the SMA Manager/Sponsor must pay or reimburse the SMA Fund for the operating expenses of the SMA Fund, excluding certain extraordinary expenses that may be incurred. These "no load, no fee funds" are typically kept at <50% of the account, and upon termination of an account holding SMA Fund shares, Raymond James will immediately redeem any shares, as these securities may not be held outside of an SMA account.
- Sustainable investing may incorporate criteria beyond traditional financial information into the investment selection process. This could result in investment performance deviating from other investment strategies or broad market benchmarks. Please review any offering or other informational material available for any investment or investment strategy that incorporates sustainable investing criteria and consult your financial professional prior to investing.

The composite consists of all unrestricted, discretionary separately managed account "SMA" portfolios that are managed according to the Global Growth strategy. Beginning June 30, 2017, the Capital Group Global Growth SMA Composite includes all SMA portfolios applicable to the Global Growth strategy. Prior to June 30, 2017, no SMA portfolios were managed in the Global Growth strategy, and for that reason, the results presented are based on Capital Group New Perspective Composite (inception is April 1, 1973) returns, which contain non-SMA similar strategy portfolios. The ADR discipline attempts to replicate the composite version as closely as possible utilizing a similar investment strategy and process. AMS Due Diligence conducted a comparative study, the result of which determined the institutional discipline did not differ materially from the ADR discipline in that both disciplines have larger market cap profiles with limited use of emerging market holdings. This resulted an acceptable level of overlap of ADRs to foreign ordinary shares and similar performance overtime.

ADR replication of the institutional foreign ordinary share portfolio will deviate in portfolio holdings where an ADR is not available and may experience material performance dispersion from the institutional product. Differences in overlap between the two Capital Group disciplines will generally occur where ADR versions of foreign ordinaries are not available or not considered to have sufficient liquidity. Differences in foreign exchange rates, liquidity, trading expenses, and other factors may also contribute to performance dispersion between the two disciplines. Dispersion will be monitored by Due Diligence on an ongoing basis.

Capital Wealth Planning, LLC

Capital Wealth Planning ("CWP") is a Naples, Florida-based investment manager. For Raymond James Consulting Services ("RJCS") SMA accounts, the firm invests primarily in U.S.-based equities of large companies, and also sells covered call options on these equities. When "writing" or selling calls, if the value of the underlying equity shares falls significantly, the loss from holding the stock will likely outweigh the gain from the option premium received. Also, as an equity holder and selling a covered call, the potential gain from owning the stock is limited to the gain realized if the share price reaches the strike price of the option. At some point after this occurs, the shares are "called away" and then sold for the strike price of the call option. Gains from expiring call options or buying back for less are considered short term for taxes.

This resulted in over 90% overlap of ADRs to foreign ordinary shares and similar performance.

Manager supplied composite performance prior to 07/01/18 for Fundamental Global Franchise ADR represents the performance of the Manulife Investment Management institutional version of the discipline that contains foreign ordinary shares (foreign stocks traded on overseas exchanges). The ADR discipline attempts to replicate the institutional version as closely as possible utilizing a similar investment strategy and process. AMS Due Diligence conducted a comparative study, the result of which determined the institutional discipline did not differ materially from the ADR discipline in that both disciplines have larger market cap profiles with limited use of emerging market holdings. This resulted in over 90% overlap of ADRs to foreign ordinary shares and similar performance.

ADR replication of the institutional foreign ordinary share portfolio will deviate in portfolio holdings where an ADR is not available and may experience material performance dispersion from the institutional product. Differences in overlap between the two Manulife disciplines will generally occur where ADR versions of foreign ordinaries are not available or not considered to have sufficient liquidity. Differences in foreign exchange rates, liquidity, trading expenses, and other factors may also contribute to performance dispersion between the two disciplines. Dispersion will be monitored by Due Diligence on an ongoing basis.

Shelton Capital Management

Shelton Capital Management ("Shelton") is a San Francisco-based investment manager. For Raymond James Consulting Services ("RJCS") SMA accounts, the firm invests primarily in U.S.-based equities of large companies, and sells covered call options on these equities. When "writing" or selling calls, if the value of the underlying equity shares falls significantly, the loss from holding the stock will likely outweigh the gain from the option premium received. Also, as an equity holder and selling a covered call, the potential gain from owning the stock is limited to the gain realized if the share price reaches the strike price of the option. At some point after this occurs, the shares are "called away" and then sold for the strike price of the call option. Gains from expiring call options or buying back for less are considered short term for taxes.

Manager composite inception date: Equity Income 01/01/09.

Risk Statistics Defined

Active Share

Active Share measures the percentage of holdings in a manager's portfolio that differ from its benchmark and is calculated by summing absolute differences of the security weights between the portfolio and the benchmark. Active Share of 100% indicates no portfolio holdings in common with the benchmark, as opposed to zero percent, which indicates portfolio holdings that exactly mirror the benchmark composition. Active Share focuses on stock selection by the manager and the conviction to deviate from the same weightings as the benchmark index.

Conclusion: Active Share can be utilized as an additional analytical tool to help assess the level of active management for the portfolio; with a High Active Share (80-100%) providing an indication for a portfolio which is focused on distinct stock selection, as opposed to Lower Active Share (less than 60%) in which the portfolio leans more towards a larger number of holdings that overlap those in the benchmark index.

R-Squared – The most important statistic!

When evaluating manager performance in comparison to a benchmark, it is imperative to ensure that the benchmark used is appropriate. The most common test for the appropriateness of a benchmark is to examine the correlation between the manager's gross performance and that of the benchmark. Correlation squared (or "R²") is the proportion of the total variation in the manager's performance that is explained by variation in the benchmark performance. A high R² indicates that manager's return is closely correlated to the benchmark and therefore the benchmark is likely an appropriate one for the manager.

Simply put, R² reflects the percentage of a manager's movements that can be explained by movements in its benchmark index. An R² of 1.00 indicates all movements of a manager can be explained by movements in the index. Thus, an S&P 500 Index fund will have an R² very close to 1.00 with the S&P 500 Index. Likewise, an R² measure of 0.35 reveals that only 35% of the manager's movements can be explained by movements in the index. R² is used to determine the significance of a particular Beta. Generally speaking, a higher R² will indicate a more reliable Beta figure. The lower the R² the less relevant the Beta is to a manager's performance.

Conclusion: A high R² is essential when looking at the Beta of a manager. When the R² is high (above 0.65) comparing the manager to the index is like comparing apples to apples. Once the R² slips below 0.65, the Beta has substantially less credibility and is, along with dependent statistics, represented with an "NM" (Not Meaningful).

Alpha

Provided the R² measurement is statistically significant, Alpha is a measure of the difference between a manager's actual gross returns and its expected performance, given its level of relative risk vs its assigned benchmark as measured by Beta. For example, if the market excess return is 2% and the portfolio Beta is 1.1, then the manager would have to have an excess return greater than 2.2% for the manager to have contributed to performance above and beyond the performance of the market. A positive Alpha figure indicates the manager has performed better than its Beta would predict. A negative Alpha indicates the manager performed worse than expected based on its level of risk. Thus, it is possible for a manager to significantly outperform an index and still have a negative Alpha. In general, the higher the Alpha the better.

Conclusion: Alpha measures the performance of a manager compared to an index based on the level of risk taken by the manager due to security selection. A positive Alpha suggests the manager is providing better returns than the market based on the portfolio's risk. Remember that Alpha is based on Beta and that Beta is dependent on R^2 . If the R^2 is not sufficiently high, the Alpha may not be the best statistical tool for portfolio analysis.

Beta

Provided the R^2 measurement is statistically significant, Beta is a measure of a fund's sensitivity to market movements. In general, the larger the Beta, the more volatile the historical performance. Using gross performance, Beta compares the manager's excess return (return over Treasury bills) to the benchmark's excess return. By definition the Beta of the index is 1.00. A Beta of 1.10 indicates that a manager has performed 10% better than its benchmark in up markets and 10% worse in down markets. Conversely, a Beta of 0.85 indicates that the manager is expected to perform 15% worse than the market's excess return during up markets and 15% better during down markets. Beta serves as an element of both the Alpha and Information Ratio calculations.

Conclusion: Beta measures a manager's risk compared to a benchmark. Remember, a manager with a low Beta can still be volatile. A low Beta signifies only that the manager's market-relative risk is low. A manager's standard deviation should be used to measure a portfolio's total volatility.

Standard Deviation

Standard Deviation is a statistical measure of portfolio risk. Standard Deviation is equal to the square root of the Variance. It reflects the average deviation of the observations from their sample mean. In the case of portfolio performance, the Standard Deviation describes the average deviation of the portfolio returns from the mean portfolio return over a certain period of time. Standard Deviation measures how wide this range of returns typically is. The wider the typical range of returns, the higher the Standard Deviation of returns, and the higher the portfolio risk. If returns are normally distributed (i.e., has a bell-shaped curve distribution), then approximately 2/3 of the returns would occur within plus or minus one Standard Deviation from the sample mean.

Conclusion: Standard deviation is a statistical measurement that sheds light on historical volatility. For example, a volatile stock will have a high standard deviation while the deviation of a stable blue-chip stock will be lower. A large dispersion tells us how much the return on the fund is deviating from the expected normal returns.

Downside Risk

Downside Risk differentiates between "good" risk (upside volatility) and "bad" risk (downside volatility). Whereas standard deviation treats both upside and downside risk the same, downside risk measures only the standard deviation of returns that are below the target. Returns above the target are assigned a deviation of zero. Both the frequency and magnitude of underperformance affect the amount of downside risk.

Conclusion: Investors, traders and analysts use a variety of technical and fundamental metrics to estimate the likelihood that an investment's value will decline, including historical performance and standard deviation calculations. In general, many investments that have a greater potential for downside risk also have an increased potential for positive rewards. Investors often compare the potential risks associated with a particular investment to its possible rewards. Downside risk is in contrast to upside potential, or the likelihood that a security's value will increase.

Residual Risk

Residual Risk is the unsystematic or firm-specific risk of a portfolio. It is the portion of the total risk of a portfolio that is unique to the portfolio itself and is not related to the benchmark. The Residual Risk in a portfolio can be decreased by including assets that do not have similar unique risk. For example, a company that relies heavily on oil would be negatively impacted by a cut in the supply of oil. However, a company that supplies oil would benefit from a cut in another company's supply of oil. Combining positions in these two companies would help reduce the risk, via diversification, associated with the price of oil. The level of Residual Risk in a portfolio is a reflection of the "bets" which the manager places in a particular asset class or sector.

Conclusion: Residual Risk is a measure of the degree to which the manager's Beta-adjusted gross returns deviate from the benchmark return. If the manager tracks the benchmark exactly, Residual Risk is zero. Otherwise, it is always positive. Very high Residual Risk is eventually reflected in a low R^2 and leads to low confidence that the benchmark is appropriate for the manager.

Information Ratio

Information Ratio is a return per unit of risk measure that compares Alpha and Residual Risk. It is a standardized measure that allows for the direct comparison of managers with different Alpha and Residual Risk characteristics. Because both the numerator and the denominator exclude market effects, we believe the Information Ratio provides the best measure of pure manager skill. In general, the higher the Information Ratio the better.

Conclusion: When evaluating a manager, Information Ratio is an effective tool when comparing managers with different Alpha and Residual Risk characteristics. Information Ratio is a measure that helps to account for the fact that market exposure may vary across managers. Negative Information Ratios are considered not meaningful and are represented with an NM. If the R^2 is not sufficiently high, the Information Ratio may not be the best statistical tool for portfolio analysis.

Sharpe Ratio

Sharpe Ratio is a measure of the risk-adjusted return of a portfolio. The ratio represents the return gained per unit of risk taken. The risk of the portfolio is the Standard Deviation of the portfolio returns. The Sharpe ratio can be used to compare the performance of managers. Two managers with the same excess return for a period but different levels of risk will have Sharpe ratios that reflect the difference in the level of risk. The performance of the manager with the lower Sharpe ratio would be interpreted as exhibiting comparatively more risk for the desired return compared to the other manager. If the two managers had the same level of risk but different levels of excess return, the manager with the higher Sharpe ratio would be preferable because the manager achieved higher return with the same level of risk as the other manager. The Sharpe ratio is most helpful when comparing managers with both different returns and different levels of risk. In this case, the Sharpe ratio provides a per-unit measure of the two managers that enables a comparison.

Conclusion: The Sharpe Ratio is a risk statistic that measures the excess return per unit of Total Risk taken in a portfolio. The excess return is the total excess return without adjustment for risk. The ratio is equal to the excess return divided by the Standard Deviation of the portfolio.

Total Risk

Total risk is a measure of the total volatility of the excess returns of an asset or portfolio.

Conclusion: The total risk is comprised of two measures of risk: market (non-diversifiable or systematic) risk and residual (diversifiable or firm-specific) risk.

Tracking Error

Tracking Error is simply the standard deviation of a portfolio's relative returns (relative to some benchmark). Whereas the standard risk measure of standard deviation measures the absolute return volatility, tracking error measures the volatility of the return differences between the portfolio and the benchmark over time. A portfolio that is actively managed in an aggressive manner would have a large amount of tracking error versus its index, whereas a portfolio that is more constrained to look like its index (an index fund being the extreme) would have smaller amounts of tracking error.

Conclusion: Tracking errors are reported as a "standard deviation percentage" difference. This measure reports the difference between the return an investor receives and that of the benchmark he or she was attempting to imitate.

Statistical Information / Holdings Based Characteristics

Portfolio characteristics generally represent the overall composition of Asset Management Services' managed portfolios. For Raymond James Consulting Services, this data is as of the last day of the most recent quarter. This information is gathered from various sources including Baseline, FactSet, First Call, Compustat, Morningstar, Bloomberg, Russell and Callan PEP and the definitions are as follows:

Active Share: Measures the degree of difference between the composition of a portfolio and its benchmark.

Dividend Yield: Dividend Yield, also known as Current Yield, is a measure of the income generated by a security divided by the price of that security as of a given date. Calculations may vary depending on the manner/frequency of payment:

- For securities paying regular quarterly income such as dividends, (latest quarter payment x 4) / current price
- For securities with semi-annual payments (e.g., some bonds), (latest semi-annual payment x 2) / price
- For securities making annual payments, latest annual payment / price
- For securities making payments of irregular amounts or at irregular intervals, add all the payments from the latest year (whether quarterly, semi-annual, or annual) / price.

Emerging Markets: Represents the current allocation to securities domiciled in countries included in the MSCI Emerging Market Index in addition to Hong Kong.

Forward P/E: Price to Earnings ratio of the next four quarters – the current price divided by the estimated future earnings. If the next four quarter's earnings are all in the same fiscal year, the annual figure is used instead.

LT Debt/Capital: Measures the percent of a company's liabilities with a due date of greater than one year relative to the total capitalization (debt and owners' equity) of the company.

LT Growth Rate: The long-term rate of growth in earnings estimated for a period of five years. Earnings estimates are the median of all contributing analyst estimates.

Median Market Cap: A measure of the overall market cap of a portfolio, it is the middle result of a ranking of the portfolio's holdings by market cap. 50% of the securities in the portfolio are above this market cap and 50% are below.

P/E: Price to Earnings: the share price divided by the trailing / projected four quarter's earnings per share results.

PE/G: Next twelve months price to earnings ratio divided by long-term growth rate (estimated earnings growth over the next five years).

Price/Book: Current share price divided by most recent book value, where book value is viewed as the worth of a company if it were liquidated.

Price/Cash Flow: Current share price divided by cash flow per share for the most recent twelve months.

Price/Sales: Current share price divided by the most recently reported sales per share (the revenue for the last four quarters divided by total shares outstanding).

ROE: The ratio of net income to common equity; measures the rate of return on common stockholders' investment.

Trailing P/E: Current share price divided by the most recent four quarters earnings per share.

Weighted Median Market Cap: A measure of the overall market capitalization of a portfolio, it is calculated by first ranking the companies in ascending order based on market cap and then summing the weights of the positions until the 50th percent holding is reached. This position's market cap is considered the weighted median market cap. 50% of the dollars invested in the portfolio are in securities with higher market caps and 50% are invested in securities with lower market caps.

Current Style Allocation: Represents the current allocation to small-, mid-, and large-cap securities, as well as value, blend, and growth securities, with breakpoints defined by Russell's most recent benchmark reconstitution.

Dispersion of Performance: Represents the net return of the best-performing and worst-performing accounts in a given performance composite for the most recent quarter. These values establish the range of returns used in arriving at the average composite return figure.

Top Holdings: The top holdings are a snapshot of the most highly weighted positions in a portfolio as of the last day of the most recent quarter. The data is compiled using the overall holdings, thus the information given may not match individual accounts exactly.

Average Coupon: the weighted average of the “face rate” of interest paid on the bonds in the portfolio.

Duration: A measure of the sensitivity of the price (the value of principal) of a fixed-income investment to a change in interest rates. Duration is expressed as a number of years.

Effective Duration: A statistical approximation of the price sensitivity of a bond to a change in market yields. For example, the value of a portfolio with a duration of 4 would be expected to change by 1% for every 0.25% change in the market rate. It considers embedded options as well as maturity and coupon rates but may underestimate actual portfolio volatility in times of volatility.

Maturity: The period of time for which a financial instrument remains outstanding. Maturity refers to a finite time period at the end of which the financial instrument will cease to exist and the principal is repaid with interest.

Average Maturity: The weighted average years to maturity of portfolio holdings.

Yield to Worst: The lowest potential yield that can be received on a bond without the issuer actually defaulting. The yield to worst is calculated by making worst-case scenario assumptions on the issue by calculating the returns that would be received if provisions, including prepayment, call or sinking fund, are used by the issuer.

Turnover: is an estimate of the manager's level of trading activity. It is an average of purchases and sales divided by average assets, presented as a long-term annual average.

Market-cap is a measure of the size of companies and is calculated by multiplying the shares outstanding by its price per share. Market caps greater than $10 billion are typically viewed as Large, while those less than $2 billion are Small Cap. Mid-Cap stocks fall between these ranges. Dispersion is the difference between the highest and the lowest performing accounts in a composite for the most recent quarter, net of fees. The difference illustrates the range of returns around reported performance.

Up/Down Market Quarterly Excess Return vs. Benchmark: chart displays the quarterly excess return (positive or negative) versus a benchmark. Each bar is color coded to represent a positive benchmark return or a negative benchmark return (black bar in an up market, white bar in a down). This chart is intended to illustrate participation in up and down markets. Please note that positive chart values do not necessarily represent positive total returns for a quarter. A composite with a total return of -5% will appear as +2% in a white bar when compared to a benchmark that returned -7% over the same quarter.

Quarterly Attribution: reports are used to explain portfolio performance relative to a benchmark. The Quarterly Attribution chart found in A Closer Look displays the most additive (top five) and most detractive (bottom five) portfolio holdings or index holdings (if underweight) over the most recent quarter. The chart displays both the portfolio's over- or underweight position (O/U Weight) in a security relative to its weight in the benchmark and the consequential performance of that holding over the most recent quarter (Total Effect). It is important to remember that attribution analyses measure performance relative to the portfolio's benchmark. While quarterly performance is informative, we encourage investors to judge investment skill over long time horizons.

Composite Yield: The individual income yield is calculated for each account in the composite (income received over the quarter / accounts average value). Those yields are then summed and divided by the number of accounts in the composite. This is not representative of a yield realized by any client and is not intended to project the income that a client should expect.

Definition of Investment Objectives

Large-cap Value: This asset class represents managers that seek appreciation of capital over time through investments in equities. Equity components will generally consist of stocks with low P/E ratios and lower than average projected earnings growth. The market capitalization of the equity components of a large-cap manager will generally be greater than $10 billion.

Large-cap Blend: This asset class represents managers that seek capital appreciation through a combination of growth and value equity investments. The market capitalization of the equity components of a large-cap manager will generally be greater than $10 billion.

Large-cap Growth: This asset class represents managers that seek to maximize long term growth in capital through investments in equities. Equity components will generally have higher than average P/E ratios and earnings growth rates. The market capitalization of the equity components of a large-cap manager will generally be greater than $10 billion.

Mid-cap Blend: This asset class seeks capital appreciation through a combination of growth and value equity investments. The market capitalization of the majority of the equity positions of a mid-cap manager will generally be between $1.5 billion and $10 billion.

Small-cap Blend: This asset class represents managers that seek capital appreciation through a combination of growth and value equity investments. The market capitalization of the majority of the equity positions of a small-cap manager will generally be less than $1.5 billion. Investing in smaller companies generally involves greater risks than investing in larger, more established companies.

Government: This asset class represents managers that seek to earn income by investing primarily in Treasuries and U.S. government agency securities. Government backing applies only to the timely payment of principal and interest on the underlying securities and does not guarantee that you will not lose money.

Corporate: This asset class represents managers that seek to provide current income through investments in higher quality debt securities. Capital preservation is a secondary objective, achieved by maintenance of a prudent level of risk. Guarantees of repayment of principal and interest do not apply to the market prices and yields of the securities which will vary with changes in interest rates and other market conditions.

High Yield: This asset class represents managers that seek to maximize current income and/or total return through investments in lower rated, higher risk, debt securities. High Yield bonds are rated below investment grade quality and entail significant credit and liquidity risks relative to more highly rated fixed income securities.

Real Estate Securities: This asset class represents managers that seek current income and/or total return through a combination of investments in real estate securities. Managers do not invest directly in real estate, but instead generally take positions in real estate investment trusts (REITs) and real estate operating companies. The REIT positions may include equity REITs, fixed income REITs, or hybrid REITs. Investments in real estate securities have risks associated with declines in property values, increasing property taxes, interest rates, zoning laws, overbuilding, and losses from casualty or condemnation.

International: This asset class represents managers that seek long term capital appreciation by investing primarily in companies outside of the United States, including emerging markets in some instances. Companies of all cap sizes may be considered. Investments are primarily ADR equities and may be subject to additional risks such as currency fluctuations, differing financial accounting standards by country, and possible political and economic risks.

Definition of Investment Styles

Deep Value: An approach that seeks to identify deeply undervalued stocks as measured by valuation criteria applied to the overall market such as price-to-book value, price-to-earnings, discount-to-private market value, discount-to-breakup value, etc. The deep value approach often includes an analysis of the underlying assets of the company and does not necessarily require a visible catalyst (i.e., restructuring, management change, etc.) at the time of purchase. The deep value approach generally leads itself to concentration in particular market sectors, as these sectors as a whole become undesirable to investors due to legal, industry, or regulatory concerns. This approach is perhaps the most aggressive of the value styles and tends to exhibit less consistent return patterns with potentially higher returns. The deep value style tends to underperform in strong bull markets and outperform in bear markets.

Traditional (Basic) Value: An approach that looks for stocks using traditional valuation techniques such as low price-to-earnings, price-to-book value, price-to-cash flow, etc. These value strategies tend to be less concentrated in various industries, but generally are characterized by sectors such as financials, industrials, basic materials, and energy. The traditional value style may require a visible catalyst (i.e., restructuring, management change, etc.) before initiating a position. This style tends to be less aggressive than deep value and is not likely to participate fully in growth-led markets. Traditional value strategies typically track the value indices more closely than either deep or relative value.

Relative Value: An approach that seeks undervalued stocks in all sectors of the market. This style may include stocks from more traditional growth sectors such as technology, health care and telecommunications. Because it tends to combine both value and growth elements, its return patterns are somewhat more consistent over time relative to a deep value approach. However, in market conditions characterized by a strong preference for value securities, the relative value style tends to underperform traditional and deep value.

Core Value (Value/Blend): An approach that invests in stocks with market-like metrics, but with a slight value tilt resulting from a reasonable valuation requirement. It is typical to observe portfolio price multiples to earnings, book value, and sales below that of the core market proxy with a marginally higher dividend yield. Strategies employing this discipline are often slightly more aggressive than relative value but less aggressive than core growth, expected to outperform value in a growth-led market.

Core: An approach that exhibits portfolio characteristics that are similar to that of a non-style biased market proxy. Usually, Core disciplines seek to add value over and above this index while keeping tracking variance relatively low. Core strategies often employ a diversified sector strategy that attempt to limit construction deviance from the market proxy. As such, the primary driver for outperformance is viewed to be security selection.

Core Growth (Growth-At-A-Reasonable-Price or GARP): An approach that looks first for growth prospects but takes a stock's valuation into consideration before purchase. Typically, this style holds stocks with more modest growth rates or stocks with a balance between growth and P/E ratio (often know as a P/E to growth or PEG ratio). This style tends to participate well in a modest growth environment. There is some overlap between GARP and relative value styles. Similar to the relative value style, GARP strategies tend to exhibit more consistency in their return patterns than other growth or value styles.

Controlled Growth: An approach that seeks to invest in companies with sustainable growth prospects with more reasonable valuations than their traditional growth counterparts. Controlled growth strategies tend to outperform higher earnings growth styles in bear markets and underperform in momentum markets.

Traditional Growth: An approach that seeks to invest in companies with sustainable, above-average growth prospects. These portfolios tend to concentrate their holdings in sectors such as technology, health care and consumer discretionary stocks. These strategies tend to exhibit less consistency of returns than the overall market in the short-term. Traditional growth strategies tend to outperform the overall market in strong bull markets but underperform the market and controlled growth philosophies in bear markets, or markets favoring low priced companies. Traditional growth strategies typically track the growth indices more closely than either aggressive or controlled growth.

High (Aggressive) Growth: An approach that seeks to invest in companies that exhibit positive earnings and/or price momentum. This style tends to concentrate their holdings in sectors such as technology, health care and telecommunications. Similar to deep value, this strategy tends to exhibit less consistency while seeking higher potential returns. Aggressive growth strategies tend to outperform in strong bull markets and underperform in bear markets.

Glossary of Terms

American Depository Receipt (ADR): An American Depository Receipt (or ADR) represents the ownership in the shares of a foreign company trading on US financial markets. The stock of many non-US companies trades on US exchanges through the use of ADRs. ADRs enable US investors to buy shares in foreign companies without undertaking cross-border transactions. ADRs carry prices in US dollars, pay dividends in US dollars, and can be traded like the shares of US-based companies.

Asset Allocation: Represents the average amount of equities, fixed income, and cash a manager is holding in Raymond James Consulting Services wrap accounts as of the last day of the most recent quarter. The data is compiled using the manager as a whole, thus the information given may not match individual accounts exactly.

Benchmark Index: Selected by AMS Manager Research from published indices based on historical returns correlation and consistency with the applicable discipline's investment process and/or holdings. Disciplines that cross asset classes or investment strategies may be shown with a blended benchmark using a combination of indices considered to be representative of the elements of the discipline. There are inherent limitations when assigning a benchmark index to an allocation discipline such as the volatility of the benchmark. Standard deviation may be materially different than that of the discipline and the benchmark may have a lower correlation to the discipline (as represented by R Squared). Standard Deviation and R Squared data is available upon request. Indices are not available for direct investment. Any product which attempts to mimic the performance an index will incur expenses such as management fees and transaction costs that reduce returns.

Bond Allocation: Delineates the percent of fixed income instruments by the duration of the instrument as well as the quality of the holding.

Buys & Sells: Buys are new holdings a manager has acquired in the most recent quarter. Sells are positions that a manager has completely sold out of in the most recent quarter. It is possible that not all individual accounts will hold a listed buy, but no account will hold a listed sell as of the last day of the most recent quarter.

Covered Call: A covered call is either the simultaneous purchase of stock and the sale of a call option, or the sale of a call option covered by underlying shares currently held by an investor. Generally, one call option is sold, or "written", for every 100 shares of stock owned. The seller, or "writer", receives cash for selling the call but will be obligated to sell the stock at the call's strike price if assigned, thereby capping further upside stock price participation. In other words, an investor is "paid" for agreeing to sell his holdings at a certain level (the strike price). For this reason, the covered call is considered a neutral to moderately bullish strategy.

Dispersion of Performance: Represents the return of the best account and the worst account in a given discipline for the most recent quarter on a net/ net basis. The difference in the performance is an indicator of performance dispersion around the reported composite performance for each manager.

Efficient Frontier: The efficient frontier represents the set of portfolios that will give you the highest return at each level of risk (or, alternatively, the lowest risk for each level of return).

Interest Rate Sensitivity Analysis: Volatility study that outlines the approximate percent change in the portfolio based on a myriad of interest rate scenarios. Calculation is based upon the modified duration of the portfolio; no convexity adjustments have been made. Generally speaking, as interest rates rise, bond prices fall and vice versa.

Morningstar Average Fund Group: Represents the Morningstar Fund Category Performance that Raymond James believes correlates to and is representative of the stated objective. This data point provides an additional overview of how a particular manager's strategy stacks up against the comparable average fund group as a whole.

Style Allocation: The equity style box is a nine-box matrix that displays both the manager's investment methodology-- as determined by FactSet's six-factor Russell Index constituency comparison -- and the size of the companies in which it invests based on the positions held as of the last day of the quarter. Combining these two variables offers a broad view of where the managers are looking for value. For a complete and detailed explanation of the proprietary method used to determine the allocations, please call our Due Diligence department.
